A MESSAGE TO ALL TEACHERS IMPLEMENTING THE NEW CURRICULUM

It is an exciting time for all teachers, school heads and other education professionals who want to see positive change in Sierra Leone. You are the professionals who have the challenging duty to shape the future for the next generation of young Sierra Leoneans. The future of our children and our nation is in your hands!

As part of the curriculum reform process the Ministry of Basic and Senior Secondary Education (MBSSE) has issued a key reference document to guide future strategies and activities. The National Curriculum Framework and Guidelines for Basic Education is the basis for designing each subject syllabus in the curriculum. Teachers are urged to access this framework document at MBSSE website: <https://mbsse.gov.sl> or borrow a copy from their principal's office. It highlights key principles underlying the new curriculum and outlines strategies for the reform of basic education, as well as providing specific guidance on structure, pedagogy, prescribed subjects, time allocation, etc.

The main reform elements in the new curriculum include: a learner-centered approach; learner-friendly schools; equity and a chance for every child to learn; a focus on learning (not just teaching); support for professional development of teachers; a focus on making schools accountable to local communities (not just MBSSE); support for learning beyond memorizing cognitive content for examinations; a focus on empowering learners to make choices and thrive through the joys of learning; an approach that encourages local interpretation of the syllabus to achieve the prescribed learning outcomes through various methods and with a variety of resources.

There are also five key reform issues that have been made part of an advocacy and popularization campaign to win support from the public for this type of education reform. These reform issues, which hold great promise for education for development in Sierra Leone, are: Assessment & Accountability; Equity & Inclusion; Partnerships; Quality & Integrity; and Social Cohesion & Peace Building. To facilitate popular discussion around these topics MBSSE has issued Advocacy and Guidance Notes on each one, and these can be used to conduct radio discussions and other forms of popular engagement with the public. Teachers can find these notes in the Basic Education Curriculum Framework.

The new basic education curriculum has been structured in three broad stages, so the teaching syllabus for each subject area is designed for Stage 1 (Class 1- Class 3), Stage 2 (Class 4 – Class 6), and Stage 3 (Form 1 – Form 3). We hope this will help teachers to focus on links between different subjects in a particular stage. Teachers may then see more clearly how these subjects combine to help their students achieve the outcomes relating to that stage. This should help teachers move away from a “class-by-class” and “subject-by-subject” view of their job. Instead teachers will develop a stage-by-stage view of how children develop and learn across subjects. It also gives teachers a sense of what children need to achieve at each stage before moving to the next stage. We hope teachers also see the need to work together like a “Relay Team in Sports”. Each teacher has an obligation to the teacher of the next class to prepare students well and make sure they are ready for that class. In turn the teacher of the next class has a duty to help learners make up for weak areas from their previous class, as well as to prepare them for progressing to yet another next class. Teachers also have a duty to challenge and stretch Gifted and Talented learners through more advanced content, resources and assessment.

The three broad stages of basic education also helps teachers to understand that schools have three years in each stage to help learners achieve certain outcomes. So for children who do not learn well in Class 1, there is still a chance to help them catch up in Class 2 and Class 3, so that they can achieve the learning outcomes prescribed for the first stage (Class 1-3) of basic education. This means that instead of failing these children and asking them to repeat class 1 or class 2, they can be allowed to proceed to the next class where they should be given help with areas in which they are weak.

However, at the end of each of the three stages there are national assessments which will determine if children are ready to proceed to the next stage. Based on their performance in these examinations, there are two options to consider. Children may be asked to repeat a class in order to retake the examination. Alternatively, they may be allowed to proceed, on condition that they are given remedial support in areas of weakness when they start the next stage. This applies to BECE and NPSE as well as national assessment on reading and mathematics (EGRA and EGMA) at the end of Class 3. Children who do not perform well in EGRA and EGMA may be asked to repeat Class 3 in order to retake these early grade assessments; or they may be allowed to proceed to stage 2 on condition that they are given remedial support in reading and mathematics during the first year of stage 2 (i.e. in Class 4).

Keeping these guidelines in mind the outline curriculum and teaching syllabus have been structured along the lines of four key elements that are important for quality in teaching and learning. These elements are outlined briefly below, and teachers are asked to note that they are inter-related. This has been taken into account by curriculum development practitioners in preparing the outline teaching syllabus to guide teachers on quality classroom practices that reflect the key elements as follows:

- ✧ Learning Outcomes: There are different levels of learning outcomes in the document and teachers should note the differences. There are: General learning Outcomes, which state what learners are expected to achieve in this subject at the end of each of the three stages; Specific Learning Outcomes by Grade, which state what learners are expected to achieve in this subject at the end of each Class/Form in the 9-year basic education cycle; and there are Specific learning Outcomes by Topic, which state what learners should achieve in this subject at the end of each of the suggested topics/themes/units (i.e. content) for each grade. Based on the resources at their disposal and the background of their students, teachers may adapt the suggested content to make the lesson more familiar to learners. Content selected in different parts of the country should enable learners to achieve the specified learning outcomes. It is the learning outcomes that are important and content is just a way of achieving learning.

- ✧ Assessment Methods: These suggest various ways in which teachers can test to find out how far learners have been able to achieve the expected learning outcomes during, and at the end of, a period of teaching and learning. These assessment methods must match the learning outcomes as an appropriate way of testing for the required results. E.g. testing for recall of the memorized definition of a concept cannot tell us if a learner really understands or can make correct use of that concept.
- ✧ Teaching Styles or Pedagogy: These suggest how teachers can go about teaching and organizing learning such that the learners have a good chance of achieving the expected learning outcomes during, and at the end of, a period of teaching and learning. The teaching style used must be closely linked to the learning outcome and assessment method.
- ✧ Learning & Teaching Resources which suggest a wide variety of learning materials and teaching aids that can be used to help teachers do their job and to help learners achieve the expected learning outcomes.

CIVICS CURRICULUM

If you can't explain it simply, you don't understand it well enough!

“Some subjects are difficult for students. Teachers may know their subject very well, but it is important to see that subject from a student's perspective, and to not necessarily assume prior knowledge or skills. As a teacher, you should try to place yourself in the frame of mind of a novice learner, and only by doing this will you be able to fully comprehend your own studies.”

Albert Einstein

Rationale and justification (Why Do We Have Civics in the Curriculum?)

Most educators agree that Civics should be part of the basic education curriculum. Their reasons include the following:

- a) Civics helps students to become responsible, clear-thinking and enlightened members, capable of creative thinking and critical analysis in making informed decisions about themselves and participating effectively in societal development.
- b) It also prepares young people for the challenges and opportunities of rapidly changing behaviours of economies and technological world.
- c) Civics helps students to have respect for others, promote equity, recognise and appreciate the equality of all human beings.
- d) The discipline trains students to have concern for other people, adhere to the rule of law and oppose any form of discrimination
- e) It promotes a spirit of cooperation, tolerance and peace in society
- f) Through Civic Education, students become aware of their rights and responsibilities in a democracy and thereby making meaningful contribution towards national economic growth.
  - g) Civics educate learners on their rights and duties as citizens, helping them to develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that will help them to be competent, informed and responsible citizens, participate gainfully in the community and show moral/civic virtues in behaviour.
  - h) Civics develops learners’ nationalism, political knowledge, skills, and ethics.
  - i) Civics is also about the study of the interrelationship among people. It enables students to develop an understanding of society and the human condition. It creates awareness in students of the diversity and interdependence of the world and helps them to celebrate diversity in Sierra Leone and recognize the challenges and benefits of living in a world with multiple cultures, ideologies and ways of being.

Syllabus Implementation Guidelines (Pacing Guide)

One way of helping all teachers prepare for implementing the subject in their school or district is for a group of teachers to get together and plan how they will pace the various topics. This means deciding on the sequence in which topics will be taught in each grade over the period of a school term (14 weeks). Teachers will use their subject knowledge and professional experience to decide on the order in which topics should be taught and how long it would take to complete so that students achieve the learning involved. Teachers may not need to cover all topics, but they must make good decisions on the key topics that are important for learners to achieve what is prescribed in the curriculum. School heads and teachers are urged to arrange workshops for this exercise to be carried out before the start of the school year. This can be for each school or for a cluster of schools, or even for all schools in a district. The template below is provided as a guide for this exercise.
